War and Social Change
in Europe 1914 -1972

A series of eight lectures

by Dr Tony Barrow

Mondays 15th January - 5th March 2018
10am -12 noon

Berwick Voluntary Centre, Tweed St, Berwick

This is a course about continuity and change and brings into conjunction two broad ‘facts’ about the history of Europe in the 20th century. The first is that all the people of Europe witnessed major changes affecting their lives. The second is that they suffered the experience and the impact of two hugely destructive world wars. The extent to which these ‘facts’ were in some way connected continues to exercise the pens of historians and their explanations provides a focus for the course.

15th Jan: The Impact of the Great War on Europe.

22nd Jan: Versailles, Weimar and the Rise of Hitler.

29th Jan: Fascism in Italy.

5th Feb: The Irish Question

12th Feb: Britain between the War

19th Feb: The Spanish Civil War

26th Feb: Appeasement and the Approach of War

5th March: The Character and Consequences of the Second World War.

The cost of the course is £48 including refreshments. Everyone is welcome and no previous knowledge is assumed.
